Montreal: Inside a Fan Base for Fan Sites - pavel_lishin ===== sabalaba I live in Montreal. I spend a lot of time in this city and although I am somewhat in the minority (4 years in Paris and I'm Canadian), I want to discourage any one who is familiar with French culture to go to a Quebecois restaurant. They will take your shit, will ignore your requests, and be obnoxious and rude. I'm not kidding here, I've been to 5 in Montreal to try and deal with French service and found it to be that way everywhere. On the other hand, people from the USA can understand French, are welcomed by Quebecois, and are treated like kings. This is because they are not acknowledging that they are in a different culture. This is a war that has been fought for decades in Canada and the USA. Montreal is like a small Little Italy compared to New York City (and by saying that, I mean that vegetables and food cost $10, meats $10+, and drinks $20+.) NY is like a sprawling Roman Empire compared to Montreal. ~~~ icy I have a friend who is from Montreal, and whenever we go to a Canadian restaurant she's got a list of things she won't eat that are common in other restaurants: raw eggs, uncooked meat, and raw dairy products are all off-limits here.
